RE: Discontinuation Notice for RAVENXTV Cellular Gateway for Verizon

Dear Customer,

Overview

Please be advised that Campbell Scientific is nearing discontinuation of the RAVENXTV Cellular Gateway for Verizon networks. When our existing inventory is gone, the RAVENXTV will no longer be available for orders. We anticipate that inventory will be exhausted by August of 2017. The RV50 Industrial 4G LTE Cellular Gateway will serve as the replacement for the RAVENXTV. Accessories such as mounts, cables, and antennas compatible with the RAVENXTV will remain available as replacement parts until at least 28 December 2018.

Support and Maintenance

Campbell Scientific will continue to provide customer support for the RAVENXTV until 27 December 2019. Repair services will be limited to warranty repairs, due to parts obsolescence.

Product Migration Options

Campbell Scientific's direct replacement for the RAVENXTV is the RV50 Industrial 4G LTE Cellular Gateway.

Please contact Campbell Scientific to select the best product for your future needs and to create a migration plan.

On behalf of Campbell Scientific, Inc., I would like to express our appreciation for your business.

Sincerely,

Sam Utley
Datalogger & Communication Products Manager
