

Campbell Scientific Announces Appointment of General Counsel

Campbell Scientific, Inc., of Logan, Utah is pleased to announce the appointment of Eric Jungbauer as General Counsel. He will play a critical role as chief legal counsel and advisor to the Board of Directors and executive leadership at Campbell Scientific and its global subsidiaries.

Eric has made a career of leading and advising agile "hyper-growth" technology companies while in-house. In his private practice, he represented national healthcare systems and international financial institutions at several greatly respected law firms. Eric has almost 20 years of experience dealing with complex legal issues that are commonplace in highly regulated industries. He has also had extensive involvement in exponentially growing privately held companies through innovative solutions and compliant policy and procedure.

Eric, his wife, and two daughters recently relocated to Cache Valley from Indianapolis, Indiana. They are excited to settle in, explore the surrounding area, and give back to the community that has welcomed them with open arms since their arrival.

About Campbell Scientific

Campbell Scientific, Inc. is a leading designer, manufacturer, and seller of data loggers, data-acquisition systems, and measurement and control products used worldwide in environmental, research, and industrial markets. With offices in 12 countries and representation in many others, we offer specialized sales and support all over the world.

Our instruments are used globally because they provide flexibility, precision measurements, and dependability—even in harsh, remote environments or in applications requiring unattended, automated, long-term monitoring. Campbell Scientific customers use our products to create measurement systems for a variety of applications related to weather, water, energy, gas flux and turbulence, infrastructure, and soil.
